

Live Music on The Roof Terrace

ROSIE HOLLOWAY
6 OCTOBER

Rosie Holloway is a classically trained turned pop vocalist and guitarist, and has been singing and playing up and down the country since 2018. She carefully curates sets comprising of soul, disco, jazz and pop and knows how to get the crowd singing along. There is nothing she enjoys more than sharing wonderful music with a room full of people and it really shows in her sets.

ED TATTERSALL
13 OCTOBER

With a new sound and a timeless emotional voice, British singer/songwriter Ed Tattersall returns to the world of music with a brand new collection of songs. The first full instalment comes in the form of a stripped back 4 track acoustic EP “Rescue Me”.

RACHEL HILL
27 OCTOBER

Rachel is a British, acoustic singer-songwriter, identifying as an indie folk pop artist. Her influences include Birdy, Gabrielle Aplin and The Staves. Having previously studied as a classical soprano, Rachel draws particularly on her unique high notes which characterise most of her music, and her lyrics have been described as ‘witty, catchy and deeply personal’. She is currently studying a Masters in Commercial Songwriting and Production at Tileyard, London and is looking forward to releasing lots of new music over 2022. Rachel has experience in performing for a range of events, from festivals and balls to weddings and christenings.